FINANCIAL / STAFFING / LEGAL IMPLICATIONS (for Recommendation(s) only)

Financial: Reduced fees for Site Plans will not affect revenue projections as these applications were not previously administered/required for single, semi, and duplex dwellings.

Legal: Not Applicable.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND (Chronology of events)

Under the City's Site Plan Control By-law, all lands within the City of Hamilton are subject to Site Plan Control including multiple residential, commercial, industrial, and institutional. Exemptions include single, semi, and duplex dwellings, except where such uses are within or contiguous to Major Open Space Areas, Environmentally Sensitive Areas, and Provincially Significant Areas, as designated in the Official Plans, in order to address any potential environmental impacts.

The Development Planning and Building Divisions have recently developed a screening system to flag single, semi, and duplex dwellings at the Building Permit stage that are subject to Site Plan Control. In this regard, such applications would be subject to the full Site Plan fee schedule, as there are no special fees in place, as is the case for Farm Based/Agricultural Uses.

In April, 2009, Council approved new fees for Farm Based/Agricultural Use Site Plan applications equivalent to one-half (1/2) of the applicable Site Plan Application fee. The Agricultural and Rural Affairs Advisory Committee had requested consideration of fees because implementation of the Natural Heritage System policies in the New Rural Official Plan will necessitate the requirement for Site Plan approval for new buildings or structures, and expansions, for agricultural uses, where none was required before.
